Board Finding Number 3.

Average salary levels of qualifying jobs are expected to be $61,000, which is 18 percent above the current Travis County average salary of $51,637 per manufacturing job.

Board Finding Number 4.

The level of the applicant's total investment per qualifying job over the term of the Agreement is estimated to be approximately $5 million on the basis of 700 qualifying jobs.

In support of Findings 3 and 4, the economic impact evaluation contains the following information.

For this study, TXP has calculated the economic impact of Project Sky's proposed semiconductor manufacturing facility based on annual output and employment levels provided by the company. . . Specifically, this analysis measures the anticipated economic impacts of Project Sky's proposed semiconductor manufacturing facility using RIMS II, the IMPLAN input-output economic system, and proprietary TXP models.

Given Travis County's role in the Austin MSA economy, regional workforce commuting patterns, and existing semiconductor suppliers, TXP's economic impact analysis focused on the greater Austin region. While direct ad valorem taxes can be attributed to specific taxing jurisdictions, the strong economic linkages throughout the region reduce the ability to estimate the number of new jobs or businesses that will be attracted specifically to Travis County. The economic impact figures in this section of the report represent the economic changes for the entire Austin MSA.

In an input-output analysis of new economic activity, it is useful to distinguish three types of expenditure effects: direct, indirect, and induced. Direct effects are production changes associated with the immediate effects or final demand changes. The payment made by an out-of-town visitor to a hotel operator is an example of a direct effect, as would be the taxi fare that visitor paid to be transported into town from the airport.

ECONOMIC & TAX REVENUE IMPACT OF PROJECT SKY

Prepared for the Manor Independent School District

Regional Tax Revenue Impact

Beyond the direct, indirect, and induced economic impacts detailed above, Project Sky's expansion could generate a tremendous amount of tax revenue for local taxing jurisdictions. In the abstract, all levels of government – school districts, city, county, and special taxing authorities – would be very positively impacted by the development of Project Sky's proposed facility, although the level of ultimate benefit will be influenced by any tax incentives that are offered. Tax rates for 2004 were obtained from the Travis Central Appraisal District website<sup>9</sup>.

A number of important considerations should be taken into account when reviewing the economic impacts of Project Sky's plans. One issue, for example, is that part of Project Sky's economic impact transcends local taxing jurisdictions (i.e., city and county). In addition, Travis County is linked to the much larger Austin MSA regional economy. It is not unreasonable to expect workers at Project Sky to commute from surrounding counties such as Williamson County, shop in neighboring cities such as Pflugerville, and spend dollars outside of Travis County. It is difficult, if not impossible, to accurately determine the amount of tax revenue that individual communities will receive from increased retail sales activity.

Therefore, TXP has focused its efforts on determining the amount of direct ad valorem tax revenue the Manor I.S.D., City of Austin, and Travis County will receive. TXP has also conservatively projected the total amount of increased indirect sales tax revenue and ad valorem tax revenue that communities in the Austin MSA will receive.

To put this project's economic impact into perspective, the following table compares Project Sky's salary and investment projections per job with Travis County. Clearly, Project Sky's wages and investment levels are far greater than the Travis County averages.

Table 7: Project Sky Investment vs. Travis County Averages

	Travis County (2003/2004)	Texas (2003/2004)	Project Sky Average	% Difference vs. Travis County
Average Weekly Manufacturing Wage*	$993	$738	$1,340	35%
Investment Per Job	$137,494	N/A	$2,580,672	1777%

* Texas Workforce Commission - Wage Information Network

** Investment per job for Travis County = 2003 Total Travis County Appraised Value / Total Travis County Employment

*** The Project Sky 15 year average wage has been used in this calculation.

Note, the tax revenue figures shown for the Manor I.S.D. reflect the projected tax collections the District would receive based on the anticipated value of the project, in the absence of the requested limitation on value and any adjustments made under the current school finance system.
